

Do you have a penicillin allergy?

9 out of 10 patients with a penicillin-allergy record are not truly allergic when tested.

Penicillins are still the recommended treatment for many infections.

Taking other antibiotics:

- may take longer to resolve symptoms
- may cause more side-effects
- has contributed to the rise in antibiotic resistant bacteria
- could be more costly to the NHS

Ask your GP about the ALABAMA Study
and how YOU can take part

ALLergy AntiBiotics And Microbial resistAnce